M. D. Bow Valley Meeting

Present were Reeve James Harwood Deputy-Reeve J. M. Wheatley and Councillors John A. McArthur, Emory Jackson and W. H. Hartell.

Jackon moved that the Minutes of Council Meeting of July 9th, 1946 be adopted as read. Carried.

West N.W. 25-23-23-4th.

Councillor Wheatley reported that he interviewed the Highway Commissioner who promised that a bridge would be ordered for this site. It was expected that this bridge would be available early in September. In the meantime a temporary culvert would be built from old material and one day's bulldozer work would make the road passable.

Mr. Stanley Hall to be advised of this arrangement and requested that he lower the water in his dam and have the water drained off the road early in September.

By-law No. 63
Purchase of coal shed from the National Grain Co. Ltd. for $200.00 cash. Shed situated on Station Grounds A. Carseland. Track site to be leased from C. P. R.

On motions of Jackson, McArthur and Wheatley By-law No. 63 was read first, second and third times and carried unanimously.

Storage facilities for Certified Seed Potatoes

Mr. R. J. Milligan, a Committee from the Certified Seed Potato Growers Association appealed to the Council for assistance to defray the cost of building storage facilities.

Wheatley in view of the fact that an grant to the Certified Seed Potato Growers Association, a very small sum, for the use of ratapayers, for a special purpose would not be fair to the large majority of our ratapayers and they in turn may demand a privilege of this kind for some other purpose this Council reluctantly refuses to grant financial assistance to this association.

Carried.

Jackon moved that the School Van Route Grant be carried by the following expenditures and that the agreement be completed and signed with the Department of Public Works.

Gravelling W. 34-23-23-4th. and W. 3 & 10-23-23-4th. $1,000.00

Grading S. 1-23-23-4th. and W. 13 & 24-23-23-4th. $800.00

Grading W. 14 & 23-23-23-4th. $400.00

Grading W. 10 & 24-23-23-4th. $400.00

Grading W. 34-23-23-4th. $100.00

Grading S. 29 & W. 16, 21, 28 & 33-24-23-4th. $1,000.00

Grading E. 18 & 19-23-23-4th. $400.00

Gravelling S. 13, 14 & 14-22-26-4th. $1,200.00

Gravelling W. 33-23-26-4th. and W. 18 & S. 27-24-25-4th. $500.00

Carried.

Wheatley moved that the $1500.00

School Van Route Grant be equally allocated to each Division by increasing 1946 allocations $300.00 each and that the completed work be charged to the Division where expended. Carried.

Jackon moved that we do not deem it advisable that Mr. E. Krueger open a dining room in his Carseland hotel as there are three restaurants in this hamlet, two recently having been opened by returned men. Should this decision jeopardize Mr. Krueger's Hotel License we shall reconsider this question. Carried.

McArthur moved that the cash state for the month of July 1946 be received and embodied in these minutes. Carried.

Moved by Wheatley that the following accounts and pay sheets as O.K'ed

To Reside in Calgary

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Black, Strathmore residents since 1907 have sold their home in Strathmore and left Thursday to reside in Calgary, where they have purchased a cosy home on the North Hill.

Mr. Black has lived in the Langdon, Strathmore district since 1900 and has been known as an Al Mason, his work always giving entire satisfaction.

Mrs. Black, as Miss Smith came from Ontario in 1907 and was Strathmore's first Post Mistress.

They are members of the United Church.

They have been quiet but worthy citizens throughout the years, and while we regret their departure we wish them many years of more leisurely life in their new home.

Red Cross Appeals For Clothing

The Red Cross appeals for clothing to meet continuing needs in Great Britain and other European countries.

The programme of the National Women's Work Committee for the winter of 1946-47 provides for 29,000 outfits for infants, boys and girls up to 14 years of age. In addition to this, a sum of $25,000,000 has been assigned to purchase certain clothing articles that cannot be made and household utensils which are in great demand. Mrs. MacEachern, Chairman of the Committee states, "In view of the urgency of the need for such clothing in Britain and on the Continent we believe that the women of Canada will rally in the Autumn to meet this crucial demand. I am confident that the fine war record of our women will be continued in this urgent postwar endeavour."

Labour Day

Monday September 2nd, is Labour Day and is a statutory Holiday throughout Canada.

THE OUT-SIDE

MILITARY FASHIONS

Britain's new No. 1 Army Dress has been approved by King George VI and the military authorities. It will be worn on all occasions when battle-dress is unobtainable. From now on, the British postwar Army will be seen on ceremonial parades, for walking out, and for all social events, in very smart dark blue uniforms. These have been made of prewar material (al, as the new cloth is not yet available. The colour of the jackets and tunics is exactly the same as the colour and the material of the trousers. The trousers are of a modified civilian cut and carry the traditional regimental stripe. Those infantry units which wore a red welt on their trousers have now got one-inch red stripes. Other infantry regiments now wear yellow and green stripes. The Highland regiments will keep to the kilt, the Lowland regiments to trews. On ceremonial occasions all ranks will wear forage caps as they were worn before the war. For other occasions a dark blue beret will be worn, except by those regiments which have been permitted to wear traditional hats. On all informal occasions, all ranks will have a blue cloth belt.

Thoughts On An Alberta Homestead

When shining beads of silver rain Are streaming down my window-pane, I breast a moorland storm again.

Or scan a sullen sea, And when the mists of early morn To floating wisps and shreds are torn, That cloud-swept land where I was born I think of wistfully.

Alberta's flowers, the fragrant rose, That every Scottish hillside knows, Upon my northern homestead blows, And takes me back awhile To glens where fawns of ivy creep, And limpid fern-fringed burns leap To nearby trysts with tides that sweep The shores of Arran's Isle.

Ah, Nature, 'tis a gracious whim Old memories and scenes to limn Here where the spruce and poplar rim All that is now my home. In this far land would I, content, Let all my life and love be spent, Were not its ragged beauties lent From beauties I have known?

ISA GRINDLAY JACKSON.

COMING EVENTS

Strathmore, the second and fourth Tuesday in each month. Carseland Standard, the third Thursday in each month. Rockyford the third Friday in each month.

Office hours are from 9-12 a.m. each Saturday.

The Women's Auxiliary of United Church will meet in the Church Memorial Room Thursday, September 5th, at 3 p.m.

Ration Book No. 6 Distributed Sept. 9-16

Over 900,000 Ration Books No. 6 will be given out in Alberta during the week of September 9-16.

It is estimated nearly one half of these will be given out in Northern Alberta. This is an interesting fact in the growth of population in the Northern part of the Province.

Secure your ration book during these days as no further books will be given out, until after September 30, hence late comers will be without ration coupons during the intervening two weeks.

The services of the volunteer workers are being enlisted by ration boards throughout the region to assist in the distribution of the new book. All ration book holders are being advised that they must bring their old ration books with them when applying for a new one. Likewise the green card marked RB 191 in the old ration book is to be filled in by each holder and to be inserted intact in the book when applying for the new book.

"All information on this card should be printed in pen and ink", a Prices Board official pointed out.

Mr. S. Coldwell is in charge of Strathmore District.

See advertisement in next week's paper for places and times where books will be distributed.

F. W. GERSHAW WRITES FROM OTTAWA

One of the most outstanding persons among the Indian population of Canada is Magistrate O. M. Martin. As a small boy on the reservation near Brantford he was chosen as one of the two boys who should be sent to Toronto to study law. The Council of the Tribe undertook to pay the expenses out of the interest on the money belonging to the band. The Department for some reason refused to sanction the expenditure and this was a great disappointment. Jim Moses the other boy who was chosen was killed in action while flying over Germany as an officer in the Royal Air Force.

Mr. Martin, however, became a school teacher on the reserve. He has very decided views on the education of Indian children. He is strongly in favour of day schools rather than the residential schools of the various religious denominations. He says in the day schools the children are taught from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., but in the residential schools there is only school for half a day and the children are working on the farm or in the kitchen the rest of the time. He is very much opposed to the paternal treatment of Indians and particularly resentful of the domination of the average Indian agent. He thinks that all Indians should have the vote to be treated as Canadian citizens. He realizes that this change should be made gradually. He recalls that there was a time when it was commonly believed that "the only good Indian was a dead Indian". He says that opinion is no longer held and that the average Canadian now realizes that the Indian is a human being. He was one of the most interesting of the witnesses appearing before the Committee and he urged that the new Act that is being worked out will give the Indian tribes more responsibility and more control over their money so that they will gradually cease to be wards of the State. He said if the Indians were told that this change would be made, say in 5 years, that they would send more of their boys and girls to high schools to prepare them for the work of acting as Indian agents. He pointed out that native officers would have a more sympathetic understanding of the desires and hopes of these primitive people. He thought there should be more Indians in official positions in the department.

He was asked about the liquor situation. His opinion was that the Indians can get liquor almost anywhere from bootleggers. He said an Indian should be able to go into a store and purchase liquor. He said the fact that an Indian could not get liquor legally brought him into contact with an undesirable element in towns and cities much to his disadvantage.

His recommendations were that the Indians should be given better education, a better income, and better homes. If this did not enable them to make a good living they should be under the same conditions as other people across the country. He did not recognize any weaknesses among the Indians.

Whether he can agree with the witless or not, his own record is a shining example of what can be done. Twenty-five years ago he left the reserve and was enfranchised. When war came he joined the army and worked his way up so that now he is a Brigadier. He is now a Magistrate in the County of York. When he reaches the retirement age he does not plan on retiring to rest.

His mother and other relatives still live on the reserve and he intends to go back there, to live in the surroundings of his boyhood days and to devote his remaining years to the welfare and advancement of his own people.

HIRTLE'S

OUR NATIVE GRASSES

The ranching industry which forms an important part of the agriculture of Southern Alberta is dependent, in the main, on native grass for both reserve feed and pasture. For this reason an understanding of our native vegetation is important.

Prairie vegetation is composed of grasses and plants other than grasses, usually called forbs. Of the two, the grass is by far the most important although certain forbs make excellent pasture for sheep. In south-eastern Alberta the grass cover is compared of blue grama, needle grass and to a lesser extent some of the wheatgrasses. These species along with a host of lesser ones, make up our short grass prairie.

Farther west the grass cover changes with better moisture conditions into taller growing species which take the place of the shorter, more drought resistant types. In the foothills region we see some of the bunch type fescues, tall oatgrasses, and some of the taller wheatgrasses. In addition there are a number of less important grasses and numerous forbs. All of these go to make up our tall grass prairie.

This, then, is the composition of our prairies where grazing is not too severe and where other factors have not changed the cover. However, in much of the ranching area of Alberta serious overgrazing is quite prevalent. Very often its effect is not noticeable until serious damage has been done. With overgrazing, cattle, sheep and horses seriously injure the best grasses and leave the poorer types alone. As a result these poorer types increase and develop in size. In the short grass prairie the blue grama grass and needle grass give way to prairie sage which is useless for pasture purposes. Similarly, in the tall grass prairie the fescue and oatgrasses gradually disappear under overgrazing and give way to buck brush, cinquefoil sedges & other undesirable plants. Many of the hillsides throughout the foothills region are covered with buck brush and cinquefoil at the present time. This condition will increase if overgrazing is permitted.

The best way to avoid overgrazing is to avoid overstocking pastures. A margin of safety should be allowed so that on all average or good years enough desirable types mature seed to maintain and build up the range.

Reduce Production WRAPPING PAPER SHOPPING BAGS

To prevent a bottleneck which is looming in Canada's food and construction programs due to a shortage of multi-wall paper bags, the Board has announced that it is curtailing production of wrapping paper, shopping bags and brown envelopes. This bottleneck is developing through the inability of multi-wall paper bag producers to meet the present extraordinary demand.

In addition to this the Board also announced that a reduction will be made in the limited quantity of kraft paper available for export.

Multi-wall bags are used for packaging a variety of food stuffs both for domestic and overseas purposes as well as for certain essential items in building construction.

As an example of the increased demand for multi-wall bags, the Board points out that the cement industry alone, the most extensive single user, has reached a production level of nearly 35% over 1945.

Labour Day

"Throughout the world most countries except Canada and the United States observe Labour Day or Labour's Holiday on May 1st.

In Britain the celebration takes place on the first Sunday after May Day, and the first celebration was held in 1892.

This holiday owes its beginning to the Labour movement in the United States.

The first proposal of a Labour Day was made by Peter J. McGuire in 1882, president of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners.

It was made a national holiday in the U. S. in 1894.

In Canada, Labour Day was made a statutory holiday by Act of Parliament July 23, 1894—the Bill being introduced by Sir John Thompson.

The Trouble Grows

Added to the strikes which have so seriously disrupted the smooth running of our large industries now comes this threatened strike of the A. F. U. to withhold their produce unless their demands can be met by the Federal Government, now in Session.

The A. F. U. committee expect to meet the Government, Wednesday of this week. They request that a fact finding Board be set up to arrive at an equitable solution for buying and selling prices.

Several of the farmers of this district agree with the establishment of the fact finding board, but are definitely opposed to the calling of a strike. A strike of this nature would bring up a very serious condition, which if all the farmers of Alberta agreed to—which so far is not the case—would lead to more serious suffering than have any of the previous strikes. Furthermore much of a farmer's produce is perishable and a non delivery strike would cause the seller much worry as well as distress to the consuming public.

In view of the general good, it is hoped the Government will agree to establish this Board and so ward off this threatened strike of the U. F. A. Since writing the above, word has come that the meeting has been postponed until the end of the week.

Consider The Other Side

The Eastern Irrigation District has built up a continent-wide reputation as a fine bird game region. The irrigation reservoirs and canals provide attraction of ducks of all kinds and the abundance of tree growth in shelter belts and groves suit the habits of the gorgeous pheasant. So swarms of hunters from far and wide come here when the season opens in the autumn.

All this is fine for sportmen and for business. Most of us like to go out and blaze away at a duck or pheasant and we like to take the hunter's dollar. But quite often the farmers are not too happy about the whole situation. For one thing the ducks frequently cause serious losses when they swarm down on a farmer's field of staked or swathed grain. Then again some hunters are none too considerate of the property rights of the farmer, and take a great deal for granted.

After all ours is a farming community. Most of us would go out of business if we had to depend solely on the game hunters who came in the autumn. These are facts that should not be forgotten.

Brooks Bulletin.

CHURKEYS

Australia's first churkeys—a cross between turkeys and chickens—have just been hatched at Glenfield, New South Wales. It is said however, that Russian scientists had already produced the cross.

The chicks walk like turkeys but look more like ordinary chickens. It is expected that they will mature more quickly than turkeys but be a good deal smaller.

More than 400 songs have been written and dedicated to the sport of curling and it frequently has been praised in pulpits as a "splendid sport to indulge in."

Souffles will be fluffier if pinch of soda is added to the beaten white of egg when mixing.

Plastics as a raw material for general purpose bottle is unlikely to supersede glass to any appreciable extent. Glass is made from very cheap materials, it is pointed out. It is substantially immune to the attack of ordinary foods and chemicals; it is air and moisture proof; it does not impart tastes or odors to its contents and when filled with liquid and dropped it will withstand a shock at least as great and often greater than will this bottle made from many of the plastic materials.

LABOR DAY THOUGHTS

Deep unrest has marked Labor-Industry relations in Canada ever since the surrender of our enemies. This has produced some concern among the general public about the future position of Labor in our democratic world.

When we look at the seething unrest caused by these strikes in the various industries there would seem to some ground for apprehension. But if we stop long enough to remember the working man's lot in the "hungry 30's"—acute unemployment situation bringing hunger and misery to many a home suffering the loss of a job, then the coloring of the picture is somewhat different.

We are sympathetic to labor in the main, nevertheless, the question posed by Carl E. Berg the other day is much to point out. It is wise to tie up key industries at this critical point in our reconversion program? The consuming public, who are a third party concerned in every strike action, has grown very, very weary of continuing shortages and total absence of essential goods. To prolong these conditions of shortages must tend to alienate the sympathy and moral support won by labor during the war.

What the public sees is this: Membership in organized labour today is five times that of 1933. This growth has given added impetus to the already overgrown industrial monopolies until Labor-Industry struggles look like battle of the giants for power. And they see that the third party concerned—the consuming public—is apt to suffer most in the struggle since their interests are not sufficiently considered.

A prolonged dispute in any key industry is able to disrupt very seriously our whole economy; and there is fear of what might happen in the minds of the public.

Sympathy of the general public towards labor was never better portrayed than in recent struggle that took place in Rochester, N. Y. when on May 15th the government of Rochester abolished 489 jobs in the department of public works. The reason for this was plainly the government's opposition to its employees joining a labor union. "Pickets from the Union (100 had joined) plus an Italian Baptist minister and a Lutheran minister appeared in front of the building. Some 250 were arrested; 100 of whom were veterans of World War I and II.

That same day, the Evening Times-Union newspaper led off with an editorial fighting for labor's right to organize. Clerical leaders of Protestant Catholic and Jewish organizations waited upon the city manager and requested him to call in representatives of labor people to talk things over. The request was refused. The men remained in jail, under good old fascist methods and in "protective custody." Then a corporation lawyer of some influence "struck his neck out" and laid the legal foundations for labor's case before the public. Other forces took up the cudgels until the civic government backed away from its fascist attitude towards labor. This is only one of the many danger signs on the horizon.

During the most severe labor unrest in the U. S. A. the President and Congress passed a bill on restrictive measures of labor's right to go on strike. The Senate wisely refused to make it into law.

If labor's right of organization and strike action goes, then democracy is on the way out and the camel of totalitarianism has its head and shoulders in the tent of democracy ready to

NAMAKA NOTES

Mrs. W. H. Bell of Baintree recently spent a few days with her mother, Mrs. L. Aitkens while Mr. L. Aitkens was in Calgary.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Roland and Jimmy of Watts, Alta. accompanied by her two sisters were recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. E. Buker.

The Lepp family returned home after a weeks holiday with relatives in Gem and Rosemary.

Mrs. Clark and Miss Bennett of Michigan, U. S. A. are visiting their brother Mr. W. D. Bennett and Mrs. Benett. The sisters and brother are meeting for the first time in thirty years, and many old memories are being recalled.

THE DEATH OF PETER WILLMS

The Namaka community were greatly shocked on Saturday afternoon, when they learned of the death of Peter Willms, well known farmer in the district. He was riding home on his tractor when it overturned into the ditch, pinning him under the wheel. Mr. Willms was conscious when discovered and remained so until the time of his death.

He leaves to mourn his death, his wife, Margaret, four children, Martha, Milton, Arthur and Annie. His father Mr. A. P. Willms, 2 brothers Aron of Ontario and Corney of Quebec and 5 sisters, Mrs. P. Wall of Coldale, Mrs. S. Towse, Mrs. G. Thiesen, Mrs. G. Quiring and Mrs. G. Dirks all of Namaka. His mother predeceased him in May.

The community express their deepest sympathy to the bereaved family. The remains are being forwarded by Melniss and Holloway on Thursday morning's train to Namaka, where services will be held and burial made Thursday afternoon.

come in and take full possession.

The most deplorable thing that could happen would be that continued strikes should so arouse public feeling as to compel governments to enact restrictive legislation against labor, which has such a large interest in our common economy.

These domestic wars in industry can be as destructive as the total wars in international conflict. They can starve men, women and children and swallow up in a very short period the meager savings of half-a-life time in thrift.

Some other way out of these paralyzing effects of recurrent strikes should be found, based on mutual agreement and not legislation. No one desires any further curb or any freedoms enjoyed under democracy. But the distance between labor's interests and ownership's must be a bridge somehow.

That a racial element exists in Labor that would like to see a real crisis develop, so that an excuse might exist for the setting up of a Communist totalitarian government is becoming quite clear. We need to protect our democratic freedom and labor's rights in our democracy. We must ever be on our guard against radicalism and labor itself must act very wisely in this matter.

The writer is hoping for a day when both parties will see the advantage of mutual agreements arrived at without the use of force as is now too often the case. Perhaps it could best be achieved if Labor had representation on Owner Management Committees and Ownership has reciprocal representation on Labor Councils. This would bring understanding, resolve conflicts eliminate costly and demoralizing strike action, and discover the full mutual advantage of uninterrupted production with satisfied labor and consuming public.

HUSSAR NOTES

By M. C. B.

On Monday, the 19th, L. F. Snider dragged the streets of Hussar. On Friday the streets were well graded again; so now they are in good condition, except for the mud caused by the rain Saturday. 3/4 of an inch of moisture fell then.

On Monday the U. F. W. A. held a lecture and demonstration accompanied by a movie tone, under the direction of Miss Hogg, District Demonstrator. A large audience of ladies were present. Afterwards the U. F. W. A. served a delicious lunch in the kitchen. A silver offering was taken, amounting to over eight dollars. This, the president, Mrs. C. T. Armstrong explained would be applied on the scholarship fund. She also announced that the District nurse, Miss Davis, will hold a clinic in the Ladies Aid kitchen on Thursday, August 29th at 2 p.m. sharp, and on every third Thursday thereafter. All mothers with young children are urged to attend. This applies to Chancellor, Hussar and all surrounding communities. Miss Davis will give the usual inoculations and vaccinations. The U. F. W. LANGDON

— By G. E. W. —

Congratulations to the Langdon Ball team. The silver cup was won on Wednesday evening August 21st when they played their final game of the play-off between the Leaves of Chesternere Lake, the score being Langdon 7, Leaves 1. These two teams have been playing against each other several times during the ball season, the boys are good sports, clean in their play, and are all out to give their best in a ball game. With the ball season at an end we say congratulations to you all for your fine sportsmanship, and hope the next season will bring you together again. To our own boys they feel justly proud of their win, in bringing the cup to Langdon, and those who have followed the games through the season, know how hard the boys have worked for this. To them we say "Well done"

Miss Jean Hogg, District Home Economist, was in Langdon last Thursday, where she gave a very interesting talk on preparing foods for freezing. After this she showed a few lantern slides, which were very interesting too. Several of the ladies in the district were able to attend and enjoyed it very much. During the afternoon there was a question period on "Hints on Canning". Miss Hogg was able to answer most of these questions and a great deal of valuable information was gained.

Ena Thomas is home again after her recent operation for tonsils, feeling not badly considering. It won't be long Ena before you can have a Dagwood sandwich ha' ha!

This rain will hold the harvesting operations up for a while. It seems like it here for a few days anyway there's nothing we can do about it but keep smiling.

Marion Watson is spending a weeks holiday on the farm visiting her Grandma.

Mrs. V. C. Scott, is away on holiday for a few days. Johnni Barron is taking over in the telephone office during her absence.

Trail Riding Popular In Canada's National Parks

Modern transportation facilities have brought many of Canada's national parks to within a few days' or hours' travel of large Canadian and American cities. Most people desire to get back to the simple life, to the sound of the brook, to the lake shore and the mountains. The call of the great outdoors is a yearly urge which permeates every office, mine, factory and workshop, and lingers through the night at every household window. There are many different ways in which this annual yearning for life in the open may be satisfied. Trail Riding in Canada's national parks is one of them.

For some years Banff and Jasper National Parks in Alberta have been the two principal outfitting points in the Rockies for trail riding expeditions. Trail riding in these parks is internationally established. The sport became so popular that in 1924 the Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies was formed. It is a Canadian society with a cosmopolitan membership. The 23rd annual gathering of this unique organization was held in July of this year in Windy Camp Country, at the junction of Panther and Wigmore Creeks, north of Banff, which is one of the best wildlife areas in the Park. Trips to such places as Snow Creek, Harrison Lake, Panther River, the marvellous Red Deer Valley, and Cascade Mountain were feature attractions.

In this park there are nearly a thousand miles of well-kept trails leading to dazzling glaciers, green valleys, bright flowers, glistening brooks, rushing torrents, great dark forests, and jade lakes reflecting white clouds and deep blue skies.

The regions lying between the two parks, and accessible from either, is majestic in alpine interest. Lofly snow-capped mountain peaks, and glaciers which reach down almost to the roadside and melt away in flower-bedecked valleys, lend enchantment to the scene. Mountain sheep, which many people believe are shy, cross and recross one's trail. It is a veritable paradise for the amateur photographer and many a snapshot album is adorned with pictures of wildlife in this great natural museum.

In recent years Yoho and Kootenay National Parks in British Columbia have also become popular areas for this exciting and adventurous pastime. The ardent trail rider may prefer the longer rides, but there are many interesting short rides for beginners. For them a trip around the Bungalow Camps in Yoho National Park starting from Yoho, Wapta, Lake O'Hara, or from Emerald Lake Chalet, would have a special appeal. For sheer beauty the Yoho Valley is unsurpassed. Takakaw Falls, more than 1,500 feet in height, The Angels, Stairs, Laughing Falls, Yoho Glacier, or gigantic mountains such as McArthur, Cathedral, Stephen and Vice-President, sometimes called "Guardians of the Valley", provide breathtaking scenes.

Lake Windermere, in Kootenay National Park, is a good centre in the Upper Columbia Valley for trail riding into the Selkirk or through the western passes of the Canadian passes of the Canadian Rockies. Riders on the Vermilion Range, upon climbing a ladder to a scaffold look-out platform perched forty feet above tree-trunk level, are able to observe moose, elk and other deer coming down to drink in the mountain springs.

CLUNY

By Mrs. B. F. G.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Clarke left Cluny Monday morning returning to their home in Manitoba.

Mr. Charlie Schaffer is very busy these days working at the Dormitory, and expects to have it ready for the boys and girls by the time school starts.

Mr. William Somerville has now moved in the building he recently purchased from Mr. Edwin Forsythe. He has had the office redecorated.

Miss Margaret Beattie has returned to Jasper where she will teach school again this year.

Mrs. A. E. Clark returned home Thursday night after having a holiday at the Coast. Her Boarders were very glad to see her home.

Mrs. Jack Wood of Calgary was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Grahams the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Arkell has as their guest Mrs. C. E. Thompson of Calgary, over the week end.

Mrs. A. E. Jones from Vancouver arrived in Cluny Thursday night and is a guest of Mrs. Walter James. Mrs. Jones is 86 years old and is known as Grandma Jones. She lived in Glenora a number of years before going to the Coast to live. She is known as a real old timer in this district.

Many a big deal has been made possible through a small Want-Ad.

The Kootenay River affords good fishing to the rider who did not forget his rod.

Here lies the realization of what one may have mentally pictured as the perfect vacation. The simple charm of trail riding is the sense it gives of intimacy with nature. It is a pleasant, healthful recreation recommended by doctors and extolled by poets, painters and philosophers.

NIGHTINGALE

—By Mrs. F. H.

Mr. and Mrs. George Thurston and Mr. C. B. Gladwin returned from their trip through Saskatchewan and Manitoba and report a most enjoyable trip.

Miss Mary Martha Downey is enjoying a holiday at the home of her grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harriman.

Last Friday Nightingale community turned out in the usual friendly way to honor Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Wegener (nee Doris Hilton) whose marriage took place in Calgary August 8th. Music for dancing was supplied by the Kinney Payne orchestra. Immediately following the supper a long table prettily decorated with lovely garden flowers was covered with many lovely and useful gifts. Mr. and Mrs. Wegener were called to the front and seated at the head of the table. Mr. P. H. Harriman then made the presentation. He spoke of the good will expressed by the many gifts and the presence of such a large gathering and wished the newly weds many happy years. Each then expressed their thanks and said they expected to remain in the community and would like all to come and visit them. The crowd sang "For They are Jolly Good Fellows" followed by a lusty tiger. Dancing lasted to an early hour and all voted it another very pleasant event.

Mrs. George Thurston entertained the Women's Institute at her home last Friday. Sewing hints were given to roll call and handicrafts were discussed. There was also a discussion of health and the care of unfortunate people. Plans for a bazaar for the fall were made. A delicious tea was served at the close of a pleasant social hour.

Mrs. Jack Hudson and daughter from Vancouver are visiting with her uncles and Grandfather at the Nevall home.

Mrs. Harriman accompanied Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Bragg of Standard on a week end holiday in Banff.

(Isaiah 55:1). "Christ is the true idea voicing good, the divine message from God to men speaking to the human consciousness." Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, by Mary Baker Eddy, p. 332.

Is the Strathmore area going to become a modified Turner Valley?

We are not sure. Oil prospectors in our district are causing a bit of flutter to us all. Only time and testing will tell, but in the meantime we can hope.

"It's me," replied a voice, and St. Peter bade him come in.

Another knock. Another question. "Who's There?"

Then another sharp rap. "Who's there?" asked St. Peter.

"It is I!" replied Maud Eyres.

"Another one of those damned school teachers," grumbled St. Peter.
